IN PARTNERSHIP WITH:

YONSEI
UNIVERSITY

The World Masters in Language Teaching (WMLT) program is a dynamic dual-degree program that will uniquely qualify you to teach English and another language to a variety of learners in multilingual and multicultural settings in the United States and around the world. This international study experience will prepare you to meet the demand for educators with a comprehensive knowledge of language, teaching, culture and social context. During the program, you will spend time at both USC and the Yonsei University in Seoul, South Korea.

18

UNITS AT USC
(22 WITH CREDENTIAL)

15

UNITS AT YONSEI (18 WITH CERTIFICATION)

You will earn two master's degrees:

- Master of Arts in Teaching-Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (MAT-TESOL), conferred by the USC Rossier School of Education. While studying at USC, you will also have the option of pursuing a California preliminary single subject teaching credential in English Language Development or World Languages.
- Master of Arts in Korean Language and Literature, conferred by Yonsei University. You will have the option to pursue Korean language teaching certification.

DYNAMIC DUAL-DEGREE PROGRAM

Through this collaborative program, you will:

- Learn from leading faculty with robust multilingual and multicultural backgrounds.
- Become prepared to teach English and another language to diverse learners around the world.
- Understand the links between language, culture, social context, and academic outcomes.
- Create inclusive learning experiences to promote language development among all learners, including those from underserved or minority groups.
- Gain a competitive advantage in the field as demand grows for language teaching and dual immersion classrooms.

LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

Most courses at both universities will be taught in English. At Yonsei University, some courses will be taught in Korean, but those who wish to complete the degree in English will be accommodated. If you pursue the Korean language teaching certification, you must demonstrate academic proficiency in Korean.

Why choose the WMLT program?

ACCELERATED PACE: Earn two master's degrees in two years — with 12 fewer units than if you enrolled in each program separately.

CULTURAL IMMERSION: Experience two vibrant, world-class cities and all the exciting cultural and educational opportunities they offer.

BALANCED FOCUS: Blend deep study in your target language with practical teaching strategies and approaches, including robust fieldwork and practice opportunities in real classrooms.

COMPARATIVE APPROACH: Contrast language teaching traditions and methods through interactions with peer students focused on teaching different languages.

STRONG PARTNERSHIPS: Access USC's international Trojan alumni network as well as numerous fieldwork placement opportunities through the school's longstanding relationships with English language learner programs in Los Angeles.
